CHICAGO, IL — WellNow Urgent Care, one of the country's fastest-growing urgent care providers, today announced that it has completed the strategic acquisition of Physicians Immediate Care, a Midwest leader in urgent care and occupational health services with 55 locations in Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin. WellNow currently operates 128 centers across New York, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Pennsylvania.

This acquisition follows a period of rapid growth for WellNow, which opened its first location in Big Flats, New York in 2012. Since then, in addition to opening new facilities, the company has also grown through the strategic acquisitions of MASH Urgent Care in 2018, Hometown Urgent Care & Occupational Health in 2020 and Primary Urgent Care in 2022.

"As we strive to bring quality, accessible healthcare to more communities, we're incredibly pleased to welcome Physicians Immediate Care to WellNow," said John Radford, M.D., president at WellNow Urgent Care. "Our organizations share many similar values, with a particular focus on putting our patients and our people first. I'm excited to see what we'll accomplish together."

Physicians Immediate Care's senior leadership team, including chairman and CEO, Stan Blaylock, will join WellNow's senior leadership team, where they will continue to focus on the strategic growth and development of the business."

WellNow Urgent Care and Physicians Immediate Care are both committed to building healthy communities through compassion and the highest quality of care," said Mr. Blaylock. "The complementary nature of our organizations will ultimately benefit our patients, employees and the communities we serve, and I look forward to realizing that vision with Dr. Radford."
